Returned with compliments

The two vacancies referred to by the Municipal Commissioner, Bangalore City, are special ones Under the existing rules, these are to be filled up by appointing candidate from the approved 'B' list and if no such candidates are available, qualified Backward Community candidates that are locally available are to be appointed temporarily Regarding Class I vacancy, there is another alternative according to which Class II candidates belonging to Backward Communities may be appointed pending the availability of graduates In view of great dearth of Backward Community graduates and also in view of the Class I 'B" list of the unit having been -- exhausted, there is perhaps very little objection to the appointment of A D Ramiah in the vacancy provided the same is treated as an interim arrangement and the vacancy should be left out of account for purposes of classification Or in the alternative the vacancy may be treated as promotion vacancy on the understanding that the next promotion vacancy being treated as a direct recruitment ~~special~~ vacancy by way of compensation

But the appointment of G Suryanarayana Rao (Attender) as a clerk on Rs 25/- is opposed to the Rules of Recruitment in as much as this vacancy is a direct recruitment special vacancy and he a Brahmin He must therefore, take his chanc only in a promotion vacancy assuming that the post of ~~x~~ an attender in the City Municipality belongs to superior service It is also not kno n if G Suryanarayana Rao is fully qualified for the Class II clerical appointment

As a supplementary "B" list for class II containing about 12 names has been issued to the unit of the Municipal Commissioner, Bangalore City, the present arrangement should be terminated and a candidate from the approved list appoint in the vacancy

As the Municipal Commissioner states that he wants a candidate who can cope up with that work, an experienced official may be posted for this special work, the fresh recruit being posted for other works Such an arrangement will not only fulfil the requirements of the Municipal Commissioner but shall also be in accordance with the Rules
